> Become a CAPAM member

As a CAPAM member, you will join an international network of public service professionals located across the Commonwealth and in 60 different countries.

- you will join a community of over 1100 senior public servants, Heads of Government, leading academics and researchers
- have the opportunity to build professional contacts and network with senior public service professionals at CAPAM programmes and conferences
- share your own research and insight with members through CAPAM publications and speaking opportunities
- gain knowledge and international perspectives on public administration, leadership, service delivery and management
- impact and share in CAPAM's work to promote the importance of good governance in the public service

In an increasingly complex world, public service excellence is a pre-requisite for citizen wellbeing and the strengthening of modern democracies. CAPAM's mission is to promote the practical requirements of good governance, just and honest government.

> CAPAM Membership

CAPAM offers two types of memberships; individual and institutional.

Individual Members - $140 USD

Individuals often join CAPAM as a professional association to further develop knowledge of public administration issues in an international context, to receive member publications and materials, to attend CAPAM training programmes and conferences, and to share their own research and knowledge with the CAPAM community. Individual members include public servants, academics, consultants, researchers and other interested professionals.

Institutional Members - $3300 USD

Since our inception in 1994, institutional members have joined CAPAM in support of our mission to promote the importance of good governance in the public service and its correlation with strong democracies that are able to meet the needs of citizens.

CAPAM institutional members include Heads of Government, Heads of Public Service, public service commissions, leading academic departments, central and line ministries, public service training institutes, and other organizations across the Commonwealth. CAPAM continues to forge strong partnerships and working relationships with institutional members.

In addition to receiving the benefits of membership, Institutional members regularly participate in:

About CAPAM

Established as a non-profit association in 1994, CAPAM represents members in a professional network that promotes good governance in public administration through knowledge sharing and capacity building in three key areas:

- citizen centered service delivery
- leadership development and growth
- public service management and renewal

> CAPAM's objectives are to:

- Ensure the development and growth of ethical and efficient public services across the Commonwealth that will better serve citizens needs
- Grow and foster a common network between public administrators and other professionals to promote and encourage good governance in public administration
- Promote integrity, ethics and standards of governance and professional conduct in the public service
- Promote the importance of developing public service capacity through professional development and training, drawing on best management practices in the public, private and non-governmental sectors

> CAPAM's Programmes and Services

CAPAM programmes have helped senior public service leaders develop reform strategies, refine leadership skills in the executive ranks, and assist public servants in acquiring new knowledge and skills in all aspects of public service administration and management.

CAPAM programmes and services include:

- Regional and International Conferences to examine emerging challenges in public administration and to refine strategies for good governance
- A series of leadership development courses to build capacity in the key public administration areas of policy formulation, programme implementation, financial administration, human resource management and citizen-centered service delivery
- Expert Workshops and Senior Leaders Forums to encourage open dialogue and sharing across the Commonwealth by public servants at all levels
- CAPAM's Commonwealth Innovations publication and an on-line library of key publications encourages cross-fertilization of ideas and knowledge sharing in governance and management issues
- The CAPAM International Innovations Awards programme fosters and encourages the sharing of key public service innovations in service delivery across the Commonwealth countries
